ST. GAUDENS WILL APPEAR.

He Will Contract for the Monument Groups for MacMonnies.

The Mounment Commissioners were in session all day yesterday. They allowed M. K. Fatout & Sons $350 for doors and windows, and H. A. Mansfield 30 per cent. of the cost of improving Monument Place or $243.98. A letter was read from Frederick MacMonnies stating that he had authorized Augustus St. Gaudens to appear before the commission and enter into a contract for making the side groups. Mr. St. Gaudens also wrote to the same effect. President Langsdale and William H. English were constituted a committee to prepare a form of contract for the construction of the groups of war and peace upon the basis of $50,000 for each group, to be paid out of the several funds heretofore determined upon. This form of contract will be submitted to the board at its next Several proposals were received and opened for building lavatories, the bases for the subsidiary monuments and for furnishing the custodian's room. These will be considered at to-day's session. The subsidiary monument bases will probably cost between $6,000 and $7,000.

Fire on Gillard Avenue.

The feed store of Charles Francke, at No. 78 Gillard avenue, was destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. The flames communicated to the home of Geo. Kopp, and also to his stable, causing a loss of over $2,000. The adjoining residence occupied by F. W. Roder caught fire from the sparks and was almost entirely destroyed. The loss is estimated at $1,500. Francke, the proprietor of the feed store, valued his property and stock at $1,200. The absence of a fire cistern from the immediate locality prevented the department from controlling the flames.

WAR ON GAS RATES | Cash H. T. Conde Implement Company,

Unemployed Claim that the Companies Are Making Overcharges.

Will File Complaint with the Mayor-County Commissioners to Be Asked to Furnish a Stone Yard.

While a spirit of unrest pervaded the meeting of the unemployed last night, there was no stormy outbreak and the milk-white flag of peace swung over the Criminal Court undisturbed. Two or three hundred idle laboring men attended the meeting and heard the report of the chairman of the committee which called upon the Governor in the interests of the question of the city raising money by bonds. D. F. Kennedy, chairman of the meeting, reported the result of the meeting yesterday afternoon between the relief committees and the Board of Public Works. The report was accepted without demur, save the remark of C. A. Johnson that he didn't "believe the Mayor was laying awake nights devising some plan to help the workingman." The chair pointed out to the meeting that the city proposed to go ahead with work if a scheme was possible, and it now remained for the meeting to adopt a scale of wages. After considerable discussion it was decided that the men could work for a dollar a day (eight hours) until spring, provided that when the regular work begins the wages may be restored to the old price, $1.50 a day.

Chairman Kennedy also announced that it was proposed to add to the bill of fare now being furnished by the food market, several articles essential to the ordinary table. The chairman stated his confidence in the Commercial Club's efforts to do the very best thing for the masses of unemployed, and he advised the men before him to spare their criticisms and accept that which was offered. He said that much now depended on the deportment of the unemployed, if they expected any re-lief in the line of employment. It was sug-gested that County Commissioners might contribute materially to the call for work arranging for the establishment stone yards road-paving r where material be prepared. This plan was received with favor by the meeting and the committee was instructed to call upon the commissioners and present the scheme. The question of exorbitant charges on the part of gas companies was brought up for discussion and one man declared that the companies were carying thousands of feet of gas mains without contributing a cent of taxes. The speaker wanted a committee appointed to see that the gas companies paid their share of taxes, an item, he thought, that would swell the city treasury materially. The suggestion failed to meet the approval of the meeting.

E. B. Cummings introduced a resolution which passed by a rousing vote. Embodied in Mr. Cummings's resolution was the allegation that the gas companies are overcharging daily for fuel and are violating contracts made with the city in 1884 which provided that a No. 8 cooking stove should be furnished with gas at the rate of $1.25 a month. This rate he showed was being abused at this time when distress is alarmingly prevalent. The resolution recommend-ed that the consumers pay or tender the amount due when due and no more, and further that complaint be filed in proper form with the Mayor of the city and that the legal department be demanded to begin at once a determined prosecution against the violators. Proper legal steps are to be taken to enjoin the gas companies from cutting off a consumer who refuses to pay the extortion. The following committee was appointed to prepare the complaint for proper presentation: E. B. Cummings, E. P. Palmer, D. F. Kennedy, William Snow, C. J. Cash. The committee will meet at 9 o'clock this morning in the drill room at

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

Officials of the City and Commercial Club Meet with the Men.

There was another meeting yesterday afternoon between Colonel Lilly, of the Commercial Club relief committee, Mr. Hugh Hanna, the Mayor, the Board of Works and the committee from the unemployed, but the conference did not develop any new remedy for the present distress. D. F. Kennedy was again the spokesman for the committee from the unemployed. He thought the food market could offer a little better bill of fare, one, for instance, that might furnish a dollar's worth of provisions for a family of five. He thought a little hominy now and then might be well received. Mr. Hanna told him that it was the intention of the committee to vary the rations as much as possible and yet furnish substantial food. There was considerable talk in which a great deal that has already been said at previous meetings was rehashed. One member of the commit-tee from the unemployed thought the city might give 3,000 men three days' work a week. This would cost over $10,000 and the city has no money to be used on street work. The city is so close to the consti-tutional limit of its indebtedness that it cannot borrow money, according to the statement made by the controller yesterday.

Mr. Kramer finally suggested that if the Commercial Club relief committee obtain $10,000 to be used on Garfield Park a great many men could be given employment. He asked that the committee give thought to this matter of raising $10,000 for the park. The plans have already been prepared and engineer has estimated that it will cost $10,000 to build the dam and dig out a bed for the lake. Mr. Hanna said he did not think it would be of great benefit to many men living in the northern part of the city to have work done at Garfield Park. If the work was to be continued some time he thought it might be well to spend the money on the park. He promised, however, to give the Board of Works an answer at an early day in regard to the suggestion made by the board.

A PATHETIC LETTER.

Story of a Woman in Distress, with Sad Features.

Colonel Holloway, the Mayor's secretary, received a letter yesterday from a lady in distress. The letter tells a sad story. She and her husband were well-to-do only a short time ago. She is now partially paralyzed. The following is the letter:

"No relief on Friday. My husband came home with a hard chill. We begged him not to go to work. He went-and was sick yesterday. We fear pneumonia. All day Saturday, yesterday and to-day we have had but little. I am too sick and weak to write. We owe a month's rent here and our grocery bill runs back. Our gas bill is due. A year ago we borrowed a little money of a man by the name of Wilson. We paid 10 per cent. per month. We paid Wilson all but $3, and told him we would pay that as soon as we could, and to give his partner, an attorney, a whack at us for $15, he sued. It was when my husband laid so bad and sick. He made that $3 cost us $38. Wilson was here a month ago. We paid him $5 and went hungry that week. He was here to-day and said it had to be paid, as he was held for $11 at the court, and if we could get any one to influence Sheriff Emmett to take us for it and release him it would be all right, and we would then owe his attorney $3 of the $15. I think you know Mr. Emmett. Do pray for him to help us in this.
"My dear, poor, good husband has threatened his own life to-day. If this was an honest, just debt it would be different. If you can influence Mr. Emmett to release this Wilson-oh, how can we live; oh, when I think of the cheerful help we have so often given to others, and now we must suffer! "Our sorrow has been awful for the past few days." The sick husband has been operating a photograph gallery. It seems that he borrowed $50 of the chattel-mortgage man, giving a mortgage on the gallery. In another part of the letter, referring to her husband's illness, she says: "I have never seen any one suffer like my husband so wildly nervous; he prays for death. He says it is so hard for our boys. If any one gives them a ticket to go to an entertainment they cannot to unless some one makes a remark. Will you see if Mr. Emmett will take an order for pictures for the judgment? Over Sixteen Thousand Dollars. The following subscriptions to the citizens' fund of the Commercial Club relief committee have been secured:

Adjutant-General's Report on the State Militia-Recommendations.

The Adjutant-general's report to the Governor shows that the Indiana Legion numbers forty-eight companies, including 2,610 men and officers, the roster being full. Of the $37,000 a year appropriated by the Legislature for two years for the legion's expenses, $31,735.62 has been paid out since last June, mostly for the camp expenses. The Adjutant-general urges larger appropriations. The Roby expedition is referred to at some, length, and the discipline of officers and men as shown at that time is commended to the executive's attention.

The suggestion is made that the companies should, while in camp, be instructed in street formations and the best methods of handling crowds, so as to be in good shape during service in riots and strikes.

A WOMAN KNOCKED SENSELESS.

Mrs. Mary Oldham Injured by a Runaway Horse.

A handsome $350 roan mare belonging to Wesley Stout, and hitched to a buggy standing on Maryland street, near the Grand Hotel, ran away yesterday afternoon, demolished the vehicle and, while turning the corner of Meridian and Maryland, knocked Mrs. Mary Oldham senseless. She was taken to her home, No. 591 West Maryland street, where it was found that a piece of the shaft had struck her across the thigh, bruising her very badly. The animal ran up to the Circle and was caught by Sergeant Mefford and patrolman Duty. The harness and shafts had been stripped from the frightened horse during the brief but damaging run. Its mouth was badly torn and legs cut and bruised.

Death of Cyrus W. Overman. Cyrus W. Overman, who was born in Henry county, near Carthage, Ind., Aug. 30, 1840, died yesterday morning at 6 o'clock in his fifty-fourth year. Near the beginning of the war of 1860 he enlisted in the Sixteenth Indiana Regiment, and continued in active service until the close of the war. He then beame a citizen of this city, and was widely and favorably known in insurance circles as a painstaking and careful underwriter. He was a member of Memorial Presbyteran Church, filling acceptably the office of deacon, and was many years a leader of the choir and music of the Sunday school. He was also a member of George H. Thomas Post, G. A. R., and Encampment No. 80, Union Veteran Legion. For the past two years he has been in very feeble health, caused no doubt by exposure and disease contracted in the army. Much of that time has been spent away from home in search of health. The funeral services will be conducted to-morrow at 2 o'clock by Rev. Frank O. Ballard at Me-morial Church, assisted by Rev. D. R. Van Buskirk, chaplain of George H. Thomas

New Corporations.

The Lowell Mercantile Company, of Lowell, was incorporated yesterday with capital stock of $3,000, for the buying and selling of merchandise, farm products and live stock. An Indianapolis enterprise also filed articles, namely, the Munger Cycle Manufacturing Company. This corporation will make and sell bicycles. Its capital stock is $20,000, and L. D. Munger, Augus-tus Bruner, Anderson Bruner and Orlando Bruner constitute the board of directors.

Funds for State Institutions. The Prison North drew $10,846.16 yesterday for maintenance, $1,688 for improvements to the bakery and kitchen and $105 for repairing the walls. The Northern Hospital for Insane at Logansport drew $7,520.56 for maintenance and $434.76 for new construction, and a maintenance voucher was issued to the Eastern Hospital for the Insane at Richmond amounting to $8,104.46.

He is twenty-five years of age.

COUNTING SAHM OUT

But He Says He Still Wants to Succeed Thompson.

Bynum's Impression-Senator Wishard Not a Candidate for Congress-Tenth District Vote.

The Washington correspondent of the Journal telegraphs: The election of Mr. Albert Sahm to the presidency of the State Bank at Indianapolis will likely frustrate the proposed removal of Post naster Thompson. The strongest card held by Representative Bynum and Senators Voorhees and Turple in their play for a change in the postmastership at Indianapolis has been the personal popularity and fitness for the duties of Mr. Sahm, their candidate for the position. It is understood that the President consented to the removal of Postmaster Thompson largely if not wholly because Mr. Sahm was to be appointed to the vacancy which it was proposed to create. This afternoon the Journal correspondent showed Mr. Bynum a telegram which had just been received from a director in the State Bank stating that Mr. Sahm had been elected president of that institution, and that this action would take him out of the race for the postmastership at Indianapolis.

"That is the first I have learned of the new honors thrust upon Mr. Sahm," said Mr. Bynum. If it is true that he has been elected president of the bank and regards himself out of consideration for the postmastership, and I have no doubt that it is true, the situation is somewhat changed." "Have you any other man in view for the postmastership?" was asked.
"No," replied Mr. Bynum. "I know of no one to whom the postmastership would be tendered without consultation, but I presume there will rise up quite an army of "Do you believe that the retirement of Mr. Sahm will put an end to the determina-tion to relieve Postmaster Thompson of

"I cannot see why a refusal upon the part of Mr. Sahm to accept the position," said Mr. Bynum, "should defeat the conclusion that there should and is to be a Democrat placed in charge of the Indianwill take place, and probably as soon as was expected before this turn in the situation. I see no reason why we should not have a Democratic postmaster, and I presume some other man will be nominated to the place before many days if Mr. Sahm should inform us that he does not desire

Some other Indiana Democrats who were questioned as to their opinion of the situation since the retirement of Mr. Sahm from the race expressed the belief that it would be sometime before another man would be agreed upon by Messrs. Bynum, Voorhees and Turpie, and that it was extremely doubtful whether a man could be found for whom the President would be willing to remove Postmaster Thompson.

The election of Albert Sahm to the presidency of the State bank of Indiana gave rise to the report that he had become disgusted with the dilatory manner of Cleve-land in regard to the Indianapolis postoffice and had abandoned his candidacy for the federal office. Mr. Sahm was asked last night if he had given up hope of being appointed postmaster at Indianapolis. "By no means," he replied with a laugh.
"My election to the presidency of the bank has not changed my plans in the least. I suppose a banker would be eligible to the appointment, would he not? I do not know when the change will be made. It may be some time yet. No, sir; I have given no thought yet to withdrawing my applica-

Congress in the Seventh. Charles L. Henry will, so far as known, have a clear field for the congressional nomination in this district. Senator A. W. Wishard, whose name has frequently been used in this connection, will not enter the race. "I have just written Mr. Henry a note to-day," said he last evening, "pledging him support. I have never thought much of the possibility of my asking the nomination, though some of my friends have been rather urgent in the matter. Should I be nominated and elected, I should be a loser, financially. Mr. Henry accepted the nomination when we were hunting for a man, and made a remarkably good can-vass when he was leading a forlorn hope. Now that the chances are excellent for the election of the Republican candidate, I be-lieve he should have the nomination if he The Tenth District Vote.

OBJECT TO THE WILSON BILL.

Stone Masons Want the Tariff on Cement Increased.

The delegates to the Stone Masons' national convention visited the monument and the Statehouse yesterday. The visitors were led to the top of the monument and minutely examined the structure. They decided that the monument was perfect in all its appointments and reflects much glory to the craft which they represent. The gentlemen were also greatly impressed with the magnitude of the Statehouse, and offered no criticism. They expect to prepare resolutions expressing their approval of both the monument and State building

A short session of the convention was held last night and some brief changes made in the constitution. Other changes will be again taken up to-day. To-morrow that provision of the Wilson tariff bill touching upon the duty on cement will be brought up for discussion. It is expected that the matter will prove productive of considerable warm argument. Many of the delegates say that the manufacture of cement is inimical to certain lines of their business and while they do not expect to fight it as an industry in this country they hope to retard the shipment of the article from Germany to America. A large number of the delegates favor a petition to Congress advising that the tariff of 8 cents a barrel be raised instead of reduced.

A COSTLY OFFICE.

Big Bill Presented to the Commissioners by the Coroner.

The County Commissioners did not reduce the bills of Coroner Beck filed with them a few days ago. The bill is for $500.06 and was allowed by the commissioners in toto. It is for thirty inquests, but this is not all the county will have to pay for the inquests by any means. This is the amount that goes to Dr. Beck, and there are a long list of witnesses yet to be paid amounts varying from 75 cents to several dollars, according to the number of days they were before the coroner and testified. An examination of the separate bills filed by the coroner shows that for Dec. 21 he draws five days' pay. He took evidence in five different cases on that day and in his bill for each inquest he charges for a full day. For Feb. 18 he draws three days' pay and for Nov. 17 he draws three days'. In addition to this bill by the coroner and the amounts due the witnesses there are bills for autopsies and inquests held by physiof Susan Anderson, $25; T. J. Young, autopsy in the case of the Arnold child, $25; Foutz & Fitzhugh, post mortem in the case of Mrs. James Edwards, $15; E. E. Carey, post mortem in the case of James Eubanks. $25. Poucher & Robinson, post mortem in the case of Robert Reynolds, $25; E. E. Carey, post mortem in the case of Lydia Edwards, $25; L. C. Cline, post mortem in the case of Lydia Edwards, $25; E. E. Carey, post mortem in the case of James Cordry, $25. Dr. E. E. Carey, who files three bills for post mortems, is deputy coroner. These bills have not yet been passed upon by the commissioners.

FOUGHT WITH A CHAIR.

Special Officers of the Vandalia Have a Lively Set-To.

Alonzo Klingensmith, special officer for the Vandalia railroad, and Charles Stanley were arrested by Constables Sorters, Brumley and Morrison yesterday afternoon on affidavits charging them with assault and battery on one another. They failed to give bond and went to jail. A rocking chair was the weapon used by each in the assault. Klingensmith says that a few days ago he received a letter from Stanley in which the latter threatened to kill him upon sight. He feared Stanley might execute his threat some night while he (Klingensmith) was at his post of duty in the Vandalia yards. To have an end of the matter he went to Stanley's house to give the latter the opportunity of killing him. He says that no sooner did he appear at the door than Stanley raised a rocking chair and struck him upon the head with it, the chair being broken by the force of the blow and Klingensmith's head more or less battered up. The latter seized the broken chair and with it attacked Stanley. From the quantity of bandages wrapped about his head it would seem that Stanley was pretty much used up by the attack.

AMUSEMENTS.

At English's to-morrow night Clara Morris will appear in Cora, in "Article 47," a play of intense interest, in which she gives one of the most powerful and vivid imper- eral. sonations known to the stage, her simulation of insanity being almost fearful in its realism.
